To Whom It May Concern:

Search Specialists, Mr. Craig Lindell, was engaged by Unisys on my behalf when I was Director of Marketing and Sales, Optical Storage Product. In this position, I had a critical requirement to hire a sales-person who had in-depth experience in selling computer peripherals to the commercial marketplace.

My requirements were given to Mr. Lindell and in short order, he had several excellent candidates for me to interview for the position. Mr. Lindell performed an outstanding job of pre-screening prospective applicants, which saved a great deal of my time.

The person I subsequently hired performed in an extremely professional manner and brought in many contracts, with one exceeding 100 million dollars.

I would not hesitate to engage Search Specialists in the future and I am sure their performance would again be above reproach.
